I bought this book for my 11 year old sister, and she loved it as much as I did. It's equal parts creativity and goofiness. Highly recommended!1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. My niece loves this book. So do I.By ChristopherWhen I picked this book up, I thought it might be something fun to flip through once and put on the shelf. Oh, how I was wrong. The concept (an illustrated collection of inner-family/sibling words) will resonate with just about anyone. When I flipped through the book with my three year-old niece, she couldn't stop laughing. We had fun saying the words together and she thought so many of the drawings were "silly" (a camel wearing one red sneaker and a horse waving its hoof like a hand are two that come to mind). The spirit of the project and sense of humor in the illustrations are what really make this book shine. I'd recommend it for just about anyone and am buying a copy for everyone in my family. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Unless they're a humorless jerk, but why get that person a gift in the first place? Meanwhile, I personally feel life makes a little more sense now knowing what to call the little bits of random detritus that cling to the bottom of your bare feet.

Every family has random words they invent for things like sticking cold feet under someone's butt ("nurdeling"). Author/illustrator Rinee Shah collected real-life phrases from families around the world, and then whimsically illustrated the results. You'll laugh. You'll cry. You'll eat some snufflins* (*sweet treats) Knock Knock books are cool gifts that make you look cool, too Hardcover; 5 x 6.5 inches; 208 pages; full-color illustrations
